Hi Laura,

Thankyou for this.

I have just this minute applied to release the conditions for the LBC and the planning application, do you think you could perhaps approve your parts as I am hoping to get works started as quickly as possible and would be very grateful if this would be possible.

Many thanks,

Paolo

Hi Paolo,

In principle this seems fine and in line with what has been discussed. Providing all goes well, we may have a new officer in post in a month or so, so they may be able to properly assess the conditions application and provide a formal response.

Many thanks,

Morning Laura,

Here is what I will put on the release of conditions, is this ok for you to be able to accept, although I'm not sure you will still be here when they get the release to you?

Here is the response from Taliesin:

The mortar will consist of one part feebly hydraulic lime to three parts aggregate, matched to the existing outbuilding.

The roof tiles will be to match the ones on the outbuilding that will be sourced from reclamation (picture attached).

I have attached pictures of the stone from the wall to be used.

Can you confirm this is acceptable?

Many thanks,

Paolo

Hi Paolo,

If you just submit a picture of the individual stone and some specifications for the mortar to be used this would be acceptable.

Just so you know, I am leaving the Authority next Friday so have little time left to do much work as I will be on leave a few days prior!

Thanks,

Laura Smith

Hi Laura,

I have just spoken to Taliesin and they will be getting me examples of old reclaimed roof tiles for the garage (this will look better than new!!) for you to look at and choose from.

A question, they can do me an example panel for you to see, but it's rather expensive for something that I won't have any use for after you have looked at it. Is there any way we can avoid this cost and you approve the use of the stone from the wall to be used to clad the garage so that money and the stone isn't wasted?

Many thanks,

Paolo

Hi Laura,

Many thanks for taking the time to visit today to look at the pavers, as agreed it's either of the 2, they look the same!

Many thanks,

Paolo
