Hi Ben

Sorry I tried to respond on Friday but having intermittent internet issues and can't access my own files.

What they have presented as visibility splays is not correctly constructed, but given the height of walls etc I don't have an issue with it. The in principle issues of extensive footway crossing and multiple drives remain. These relate to prejudicial to disability groups and loss of on street parking. They are not strong enough reasons for a refusal, but I can't support it.

Regards

Kevin
