The proposed new agricultural access in principle is considered acceptable subject to the resolution of several key matters. A need for the access has been demonstrated, primarily on highway safety and operational grounds, given the loss of use of the existing shared access and the importance of safe, separate access for agricultural vehicles. However, the proposal lies within designated countryside and on Grade 2 agricultural land. As such, strong justification must be provided in accordance with Policy SP5 and national guidance set out in PPW12. Design details appear generally appropriate for the rural setting, though further clarity is required through elevations and landscaping proposals. Highways have expressed support in principle but will require detailed information on traffic movements, access management, and justification for additional access in relation to junction spacing.
