Dear Guy Arnall,

Site: Newport City Council, Civic Centre, Godfrey Road, Newport, South Wales, NP20 4UR

Ref: 25/1017

The Twentieth Century Society is the National Amenity Society charged with the protection and appreciation of post-1914 heritage. We are writing regarding the above listed building consent application for the installation of 70no. 500W PV panels, 1no. 25KW inverter, 35no. optimisers and accompanying electrical distribution system to the Grade II*-listed Newport Civic Centre.

There is a clear public benefit that results from the introduction of renewable energy sources and the society does not object in principle to the installation of rooftop mounted PV panels on the roof of the civic centre.

The installation of PV panels, as proposed on the roof of the Civic Centre, does cause some harm to the Grade II*-listed building. The Design and Access report states that the photovoltaic panels will be 'relatively concealed behind high parapets' and will be 'screened from any surrounding public vantage points', however nothing provided within the report enables us to assess this. Photographs included within the report show the view of the roof but we would like to see these including the proposed panels, in order to judge their visual impact.

We do suggest that the proposed PV panels should be fully reversible should the technology become redundant in the future.

We now defer to the conservation officer to decide whether the level of harm to the Grade II*-listed building is outweighed by the public benefit.

We hope that these comments are of use to you. Please do not hesitate to get in touch if you require further advice. We would be grateful if the Society could be informed of your decision.

Remit: The Twentieth Century Society was founded in 1979 and is the national amenity society concerned with the protection, appreciation, and study of post-1914 architecture, townscape and design. The Society is acknowledged in national planning guidance as the key organisation concerned with the modern period and is a constituent member of the Joint Committee of the National Amenity Societies. Under the procedures set out in the Arrangements for Handling Heritage Applications – Notification to Historic England and National Amenity Societies and the Secretary of State (England) Direction 2021, all English local planning authorities must inform the Twentieth Century Society when an application for listed building consent involving partial or total demolition is received, and they must notify us of the decisions taken on these applications.
