Morning Jacob

Strictly speaking the vis splay info lacks important detail, however, I'm confident that if it were submitted it would show that the visibility is adequate. On that basis I don't want to create unnecessary work and I'm content to say there is no issue.
Sorry about the confusion.

Gates noted and no further comment/objection.

Regards
Kevin

Morning Kevin,

Updated drawings attached showing doors opening inwards.

I'm unsure if your comments meant we needed vis splay information, or whether the drawing submitted is sufficient for you to show vis splays acceptable?

Kind regards,

Jacob Cooke
